ECIA Holds Second Joint Council Meeting Following Association Restructure

In 2018 the Electronic Component Industry Association (ECIA) completed a substantial makeover of its meeting forums and governance structure, following a comprehensive member survey to determine how the association could provide more value to its members.

The result was a restructure of the board of directors to a nimble nine-person assembly made up of four distributors, four manufacturers and one independent manufacturer's representative. This governance body can more effectively discuss financial matters, set strategic direction and approve matters, such as the priorities of our Global Industry Practices Committee (GIPC). TPC Semi Industry Survey Shows Some Improvement in Bookings, Demand, and Cancellation Trends

Based on the March survey results and conversations with various supply chains, TPC believes the industry has yet to see a true bottom as demand continues to be weak and inventories continue to be viewed as too high. Additionally, there continues to be concern over the macro environment especially in China. Click here to download and review the complete report.

Technology Partners Consulting, (TPC) provides independent third party consulting to electronics suppliers and financial services firms. TPC provides ECIA with a monthly report on a market trends survey administered by Glenn Hitchcock, TPC founder and president. The report provides results from a survey sent to 20,000 electronic industry professionals across the globe to assess their expectations for order activity and inventory levels.
