

Registration is Open | New Badge Procedures

New registration procedures have been instituted this year. Please register prior to the event rather than onsite, as there is a new badging procedure for this year. Also, please note that each attendee will be issued 1 badge. Replacement badges will incur a $25/badge reprint fee.

- Companies with meeting space or hotel suites: A pre-registration information email was sent to representatives of companies who have booked space at EDS in the past. In the email, there is a link to a Google Form, which will record consents to the required EDS documents prior to confirmation of your space.
- Distributor and Rep attendees: An email with the registration code was sent to prior attendees. Only Distributors and Reps may register as Attendees. If you did not receive the password, please contact EDS Management at info@edssummit.com.

Set up your company profile on EDSLink (instructions in your confirmation email) to connect with registered companies before the show. We look forward to seeing you in Las Vegas!

IDEA Webinar

Congratulations to Millennium Alliance Group, ECIA's Member of the Week.

Millennium

Alliance was founded in 1993. Their associates include twenty-two account managers and four field applications engineers, strategically positioned across six states. They are experts at presenting the best available technical solutions to challenging, real world, engineering problems. Their offices are strategically located throughout their territory. Accounts are visited regularly and customers rely on the account manager to be there when assistance is needed. Manufacturer's products gain customer visibility as soon as they hit the market!

Millennium Alliance associates are experienced and successful at solving real world challenges for many market segments: Industrial, Automation, Automotive, Military/Aerospace, Appliance, Networking, Medical, Consumer, Lighting, Communications and Safety.

Company president Mike Longano serves on the Independent Manufacturer Rep Council and members of the Millennium team have assisted ECIA with Committee work. ECIA is grateful for their long running support – thank you!

June 9 Webinar | 9 AM EDT (3 PM CET) | Register Today

Demand for electronic components is much stronger than forecast and is exceeding many manufacturers ability to supply leading to extended lead-times and product shortages. And unfortunately the situation is likely to get worse before it improves... Is it a temporary problem linked to the pandemic or something structural?

To provide better insight into the current situation IDEA (International Distribution of Electronics Association) has organized a one hour Roundtable Webinar to allow its members to hear the views of a number of leading industry analysts and share their opinions.

Did You Know? No Endorsement of Attendee/Accommodation Solicitations

ECIA does not work with third parties that solicit hotel accommodations outside of our conference event venues. Many members have received emails offering EDS attendee lists and "assistance" with securing hotel rooms at EDS and the Executive Conference. These solicitations are not endorsed or approved by ECIA.
